Client Facing
Faline:	I was travelling in Hawaii and I was there with my boyfriend. Him and I were going to watch the sunset along a pier. I looked over at my boyfriend and there was a wave above his head. Next thing I knew, we were sliding down the rocks. I just started screaming in pain and found out there that I had indeed broken my spine. 22 years old and $130,000 in debt – that would've been the worst. Getting the bills was a lot of money – with the air evac, the ambulance rides. But Manulife immediately took over. They were so assuring that everything was going to be okay. I felt really thankful and safe in knowing that I'd be covered. Prior to the accident, I was thinking at the time of using credit card insurance, however, I liked Manulife better. They covered everything I needed. I'm doing good now. I'm not in debt – I'm happy. There's no limits to what I want. It is far easier to go on vacation worry-free and maybe you don't get into an accident and if you do, then at least you're reassured knowing that everything's taken care of. I will always pack travel insurance.
